Subject: RE: Jacob Walser on Mesa HHW Project

You're very welcome, Pete. I enjoy our conversations, just as I always want to give credit where credit is due. Jacob reminds me of most of the electricians I knew early in my career, whose first priority was doing good work. A growing number these days seem more interested in finding ways to either to increase profit or avoid effort. Please make sure to pass along my compliments to Jacob.

Have a good day.
